Beautifully finished leathers, superior in grain and colour, are displayed by seven Canadian tanners at the International Leather Fair in London, May 24 to 27, 1965.

Canadian leathers are processed from prime animal hides, carefully handled under the watchful eyes of trained chemists. The natural pliability of the leather is retained through the skillful use of tanning agents. Leathers from Canada—the finest hides tanned by the finest methods—rank with the world's best.

Through the years, Canada's leather industry has become a multi-million dollar business. In Britain, where purchases of Canadian leathers totalled more than £666,000 in 1964, manufacturers have long valued the superb finished skins processed by Canadian tanneries.

Exhibitors in the Canadian section of the fair will display an exceptional collection of rich, colourful leathers of many types—including hide-grain calf skins, soft specialty leathers, anilines, sueded pigskins and heavy-duty shoe leathers.
